Apprenticeship

Merchant in wholesale and foreign trade

With an apprenticeship as a merchant in wholesale and foreign trade, you become a customer whisperer with us. You are communicative and enjoy convincing others of our products? Perfect, since that is exactly what you do as a merchant in wholesale and foreign trade. You support purchasing and sales processes from planning and management of sales meetings up to the processing of sales orders and the preparation of invoices. Whether on the telephone, by e-mail or directly in the salesroom – you can conduct negotiations with total flexibility.

In your training, you learn to ensure the seamless flow of good support within order processing and check incoming goods and stocks. Your tasks also include the reordering of goods, products and spare parts. With the assistance of software programmes, you can plan the delivery on schedule. In addition, you make sure, that everything is stored at the lowest possible cost.

Are you interested in business management processes? Are you communicative and clever in negotiations? Then we look forward to receiving your application!

What you can expect:

- Three years of apprenticeship
- Direct contact to our customers
- A familiar working atmosphere
- A varied working environment
- Ultra-modern technology
- Agriculture as an industry of the future

What we expect from you:

- At least technical secondary school certificate
- Interest in business management processes
- Negotiating and communication skills
- Proactive and highly perceptive
- Good social skills and ability to work in a team
- Imagination: You know what your partner needs
